

3000/Lesson 19

READING

Read out loud the transcription of the dictation:

My dad is an enthusiastic musician. He has several guitars at home and I learned how to change strings. We opened a music store last year and I get paid for this service. With this money, I realized my dream which is related to my biology classes. It was a great opportunity for me to show off a little at school. Why not after all? I worked pretty hard on it, didn't I?
