

3000/Lesson 21

READING

Read out loud the transcription of the dictation:

In the summer, my daughter's appetite seems always ready for a mealtime event. There's no doubt she's a lively young lady. She's constantly eager to try new dishes, making each meal an adventure. Her love for food during this season is infectious. As her parent, I'm amazed by her. Summer brings out her joy for exploring flavors. We are happy to share the excitement with her. It's a delightful time for all of us.
