READING

Read out loud the transcription of the dictation:

In a small town, Sarah was an electrician who liked her job a lot. One day, she got an order to fix wiring for a race event. While working, she noticed kids getting ready for the race. After the race, Sarah finished her work, making sure everything was in order. The organizers thanked her, and she felt happy. Later, Sarah got a message from Lisa, a local teacher and her friend, who organized the race and they decided to meet for a friendly match of tennis.
